Digital Touchscreen music system

Sound Leisure's wealth of experience in the design and production of digital jukebox products culminates in the All in One Programmable Audio System (Audio and Video option also available.) The All in One affords the user total control over the music environment in any location. By selecting options from a range of presets the user can quickly and simply programme all the information required via the touchscreen to allow it to generate its own accurate play list, perfectly tailored to its specific time slot. With 10 timers available, enough variation can be programmed into the machine for even the most diverse location and clientele.

The system generates a random play list at the commencement of each timer, ensuring you'll never listen to the same play list twice. A music library is pre loaded to suit each sites initial profile after which Sound Leisure's Intelligent Music Management System (IMMS) automatically updates the music library based on the type of music most regularly played. The timer options fall into 10 simple categories, just fill in the details and let All in One do the hard work for you! Once set, access to the options can be strictly controlled by password protection and each timer can be set to allow various states of interaction. i.e. Enable/Disable Manual Reject, Track Selection etc.
